How do you make the FUTURE work for you? By staying a step ahead.
Savour an unconventional kind of COMFORT.
How do you sit?

Many of us spend a significant part of our lives sitting down, whether at school, college, in the office, working in a shop or other seated activities. Strangely enough, even though we spend hours sitting we often ‘put up’ with an uncomfortable sitting and working position. This is not only uncomfortable, but leads to stiffness and soreness, and can result in back and posture problems that last a life-time.

The sitting up straight problem

In most of our schools, current best practice is to encourage children to sit in the most upright position they can manage. Let’s call it the ‘three right angles’ approach, here’s how it goes:

1. Seat flat, with thighs at 90° to the spine to make the first right angle.
2. Knees bent at 90° to keep your lower legs straight – making the second right angle.
3. And finally, feet bent at the ankle another 90° so they rest flat on the floor, making the third right angle.

As we can see in the photo on the right, this practice works until we have to get down to work and then ‘right angles means wrong ways’.

The ‘Right Angles’ sitting position

- Hip joints and lumbar are in extreme positions
- Causes discomfort to sit for any length of time

Working from the ‘Right Angles’ position

- Eyes need to be closer to the reading or writing – causes bending the lumbar region
- Muscles, joints and ligaments become overstretched and the back begins to round
- Backward pressure starts on the lower discs with extreme flexion of the neck

Round back, cut legs

- Move to the front of the seat, thighs sloping about 20° below the horizontal
- Reduces the bend on the lumbar region, brings us closer to our work but the front edge of the seat cuts into our thighs
- The seat pressing into the thighs causes blood flow restriction to the legs and feet
Good posture benefits in:

- Improved concentration
- Reduced discomfort
- Increased achievement

The Ergo Chair can be used for a range of applications in both commercial and educational environments, especially where long periods of sitting are normal.

ERGO Chair

The ERGO chair promotes good posture by encouraging an ‘open’ seating position. This is known to ease pressure on the lower back and reduces the propensity for spinal curvature.

- Encourages an alert and upright posture.
- Proven to enhance concentration and consequential educational achievement.
- Available seat heights: 19”, 21”, 23”
- Immensely strong and vandal resistant.
- Ready for comfortable use by students of different heights without time wasting adjustment, especially when used with adjustable angle desk.

ENVIRONMENTAL POLICY

The environment is everybody’s to enjoy and everybody’s to preserve. This is where we can play our part. At Accent Learning Environments we are proud to provide products that qualify for Level, LEED, SCS, FSC or Greenguard Certification. Our products are all sourced from sustainable resources to reduce impact on the environment.

We pay strict attention to ensure efficiency in transporting our products from receiving to shipping, to reduce greenhouse gasses, but still succeeding in delivering customer satisfaction.

In our corporate office and warehouse we follow our company environmental policy. All used paper is shredded and where possible any other materials that can be recycled are recycled to help reduce waste and preserve the environment.

Every ton of recycled paper saves approximately 4 barrels of oil, 4,200-kilowatt hours of energy, and enough energy to heat and air-condition the average North American home for at least 6 months.
